MUSICAL SOCIETY CONCERT Sunday 26 July 2.30pm at the Mornington Methodist church.

Sandra Crawshaw is playing piano and titled the concert "Connections". These piano works have a connection. There are works by Bach, Mendelssohn and Liszt. Adults $2.00 - children free

EXPLORERS

Explorers resume their meetings in the Mornington Church lounge at 4.30pm today, Sunday 26 July. We will hold our long-delayed discussion of the End of Life Choice Bill, and the meeting will be set up as an open forum for anyone—Explorer or not—who wishes to quietly consider ahead of the forth-coming referendum the issue of the freedom to choose to terminate one's life. Plenty of information will be made available, and there will be no attempt to sway attenders to one or another voting choice.

STORY FROM THE MISSION

Ōtēpoti YTH

The residents are getting on well and are keeping the house and their rooms very clean and tidy and they cook excellent meals. One of the residents had a parent who was a chef and learnt some excellent baking and the other resident cooks amazing Indian food.

One of our supervisors has a friend that owns a gym and has managed to get free gym memberships for both residents much to their delight. Other than the fact that he has got them waking up around 5:30 in the morning to go to the gym until 8:00am they still appear very positive and keen.

Both residents have also enrolled in the driving course through Methodist Mission to obtain their restricted - having a driver's license is often a requirement for many jobs.
